Advisory Board on Entrepreneurship. While the Vice-Chancellor inaugurated the first board on the 19th of September 2020, he duly inaugurated the second board on the 8th of September 2020. Given that the University was still shut down due to the ravaging COVID-19 forced holidays, the inaugurations of both boards were done via zoom online channel.

The Advisory Board on Publication and University Ranking: The board is mandated to recommend to the university procedures to be undertaken to ensure that the university ranks high in the global annual university ranking exercise undertaken by different bodies around the world. How a university is ranked among other universities in the world is a very important factor because it encourages students' enrolment in large numbers from different parts of the world. It also promotes a healthy relationship between the corporate, business world and the university in terms of sponsorships, research partnerships and grants for further research. Although the indices for university ranking are in the public domain, the Advisory Board on Publication and University Ranking will offer advice and recommend important journals where members of staff can publish their academic papers. It is the responsibility of the board to find out and recommend Grade A journals which attract high impact recognition globally. The board will also advise the University management on when and how to assist academic staff to publish their papers.

During the inauguration of the board, the Chairman, Professor Peter Adebayo Idowu, commended the University Vice-Chancellor for constituting the board and selecting exceptionally competent individuals as members. The Chairman pledged to work assiduously with other members of the board to achieve the purpose for which the board was set up. He assured the Vice-Chancellor that MTU will achieve a better and higher ranking in the years ahead, in the world university ranking exercise. The Vice-Chancellor, Professor Elijah Ayolabi, remarked that he was honoured that the erudite professor

11. Mrs. O.O. Tanimowo (Administrative Officer II, MTU) - Secretary

Advisory Board on Entrepreneurship and Innovation: The Board is to offer strategic advice to enable entrepreneurship and new, modern approaches to innovations. It also has the onerous responsibility to recommend measures which will connect the MTU entrepreneurial ecosystem with other networks both locally and internationally. The board is tasked to offer recommendations to ensure that the University entrepreneurship and innovation policies yield maximum benefit to Nigeria's sustainable economic policies. Furthermore, the board is saddled with the responsibility to create various initiatives that can support the entrepreneurial and innovative drive of the University.

The Chairman of the board, Prince J. Samuel, in his opening address, thanked the Vice-Chancellor for his ingenious insight that gave birth to the board. He assured the University of his willingness to work by creating new ideas and innovation that will have visible impact on the University community. He further said he was honoured to serve and contribute his quota to the elevation of MTU as one of the best universities in Nigeria.

Distinguished members of the board are:

The Management of Mountain Top University has approved the commencement of an e-training programme tagged – Business, Artificial Intelligence & Project Management Practice 2020 – for its staff and students. The programme is being facilitated by TC Resource Technology, an IT digital solution company, based in the United Kingdom, positioned to helping their clients bridge the gap between academics and industry work experience. The company also offers the clients opportunity to gain international e-work experience.

The e-training kicked off on the 30th of September, 2020, after several weeks of registration and orientation for the students and is aimed at training Mountain Top University students to become leaders and relevant in their different fields of learning.

Some of the courses available in the eight-week intensive programme include: Lean Six Sigma, Digital Project Management, General Data Protection and Regulation, Big Data Analytics, Technical Business Analysis, Machine Learning/Artificial Intelligence and Cyber Security. It is expected that at the end of the training, the staff and students would have been fully prepared and empowered to excel gallantly in today's competitive world of work.
